

Dear Guest,

YOU are not in a five-star superior hotel,
but in a family-run country inn. An overview, hereby over our country inn whose permanent inhabitants YOU once again warmly welcome.
Behind us stands the family Steller and our hard-working employees.

Our small company has been a family business since * 1830 *.
Yes, there was in the church books for the first time a mention of an accommodation by my ancestors (because of a wedding registration).

Back then it looked a bit different here, of course ...!
Behind the lodging, concealed a large room with four bed,
one in each corner, and whoever had booked a night
had to share the bedroom and the water dish with strangers.

Over the years, this house and the respective operators have always tried to focus on the needs of the guests.
By that I mean, in the early days, our guests arrived by carriage, on horseback, or on foot, and the animals' needs, as well as the guests needs, were cared for.
Not only was there a stable and feed available, but also outbuildings and a forge for shoeing the horses.

As the motorcycles and the cars increased on the B3,
the forge disappeared and a gas station was set up.
We left the agriculture and livestock farming in 1990
when my husband Jörg and I took over the family business.
It was a hard decision for my father, Heinrich Steller,
for he was heart and soul, innkeeper and farmer.
My mother, Waltraud Steller, had married into a labor-intensive business and understood our commitment to fully apply to the guests more easily.
She wanted to have a little more time for her grandchildren than she had for her three daughters.

My two sisters live here in Gilserberg, but they do not work in the gastronomy. My two nephews, Thomas and Andreas, and my niece Hanna, help us out with big events.
Our two daughters, Karoline and Elisa, both attend school and are absolute treasures. Here in the family, we always say:
* Work does not hurt*,
in this sense, the girls are here to help us daily.
Even my parents cannot rest,
they do as much as they can for us.

We would be completely lost without our sweetheart, Anita Burk, she is active in all areas of our house, a real sweetheart.

The scepter in the realm of the kitchen swings Manfred Damm,
trained chef, he has learned in good houses
and is now an outstanding chef with creative ideas.

Michaela Gömpel and Mr. Werner Breuer assist the kitchen team, depending on the workload, but always with full commitment and usually with a smile on their face.

Mrs. Natascha Wende is the newest member in our service team and we are happy to have her in our team.

My classmate, Volly Gömpel, is simply an incredibly kind person,
and has a lot of fun dealing with people.

The friends of our girls like Mara, Nasrin or Lasse impress us again and again with their interest and commitment for us and for YOU.

Thank you, that you are as you are.

I met my husband in 1988.
Sometimes you just get lucky in life.
He is the quality manager in this house.

His hobby is calling and completing paperwork as if we are perfect,
I call very reluctantly and office work is for me pure prison camp.
Jörg would tell you now, her hobby room is the laundry room,
I can only say in turn, I almost never see him there!

All in all, we're a little crazy, but not generally dangerous.
Our concern is that YOU feel comfortable with us and are fond of us when you're back home,

Sincerely,
Kerstin Steller
